Name _____ Date _____

Narrative Writing:

Narrative writing tells a story about something that really happened in the writer's life.

There are many nonliving parts of the environment.

Before you begin writing, think about a forest or other outdoor environment you have been to or seen recently.

Now, tell about that place and what nonliving things you saw there.

The nonliving parts of the enviroment are all around us. When I saw